Summary of reasons for decision:

The computer image file printout is deemed objectionable because it promotes and supports the exploitation of young persons for sexual purposes.

The image shows a young teenage girl posing naked apart from black stockings and high heels. The girl's stance is a sexual pose that displays her naked young body and sexual characteristics in a manner that mimics older models. The source of the image is the Internet, where it is likely to attract the attention of those with a sexual interest in young people. The availability of such images encourages this sexual interest and perpetuates the belief that young girls may be used for adult sexual gratification.

The classification of this publication interferes with the right to freedom of expression set out in the New Zealand Bill of Rights Act 1990. However, this is an outcome that is consistent with Parliament's intention and is a reasonable limitation on the freedom of expression. The classification reflects the concern of a free and democratic society to protect its young and vulnerable members from sexual exploitation.
